ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF LAND

St. Lawrence College is situated on the traditional lands of the Anishinaabe and Haudenosaunee peoples. May we always be grateful to live and learn on these lands.

HONOUR SONG STORY

Helena Neveu

I want to acknowledge all the students and their achievements. This honour song is about the gifts that you have achieved from the land and also about the Giveaway. I want you to feel pride today and to let you know there's a lot of love surrounding you and in all the teachings. I want to give this song to you as a Giveaway. The Giveaway is a gift that we're given, and I am very honored to be part of your achievements and graduation ceremony. This song is called the All my People song. It's for all the people equally in the circle, represented by the drum. One time there was a girl who had a dream that a hand drum had fallen from the sky. It landed on a beautiful blanket and the girl was told to gather all the people together and that this drum would bring harmony. And so, she did what the dream told her and started singing this song. This is the Giveaway for you.

MUSICAL INTERLUDE

Seasons of Love – Rent, the Broadway Musical

Performed by: Maggie Alguire, Mikayla Bondy, Sara-Claude Dion-Dupont, Anna Doyle, Sarah Duff, Marlee Griffiths, Anastacia Harris, Madeleine Kennedy, Jess Nicholas, Mallory Mason, Bethany Papadopoulos, Will Parry, Thomas Pritchard, Nicholas Sajonas, Sean Rakowski, Maddy Thaller, Kiera Watson

Five hundred twenty-five thousand six hundred minutes
Five hundred twenty-five thousand moments so dear
Five hundred twenty-five thousand six hundred minutes
How do you measure? Measure a year?
In daylights,
In sunsets,
In midnights,
In cups of coffee,
In inches, in miles, in laughter, in strife
In five hundred twenty-five thousand six hundred minutes
How do you measure a year in a life?
How about love?
How about love?
How about love?
Measure in love...
Seasons of love...
Seasons of love...
Five hundred twenty-five thousand six hundred minutes
Five hundred twenty-five thousand journeys to plan
Five hundred twenty-five thousand six hundred minutes
How do you measure a life of a woman or a man?
In truths that she learned
Or in times that she cried
In bridges he burned
Or the way that she died
Its time now to sing out though
The story never ends
Let's celebrate remember a year in a life
Of friends
Remember the love...
(Oh you gotta remember the love)
Remember the love...
(Oh yeah, it's a gift from up above)
Remember the love...
(Sing out, give out, measure your life
In looooooove...!)
Seasons of love...
Seasons of love...

CLASS OF 2021 HONORARY DIPLOMA RECIPIENT

CATHY CLEARY - COMMUNITY LEADER, ACTIVIST, AND SOCIAL ENTREPRENEUR

As a community leader, activist, and social entrepreneur, Cathy has been working in international development for the past 10 years and in the areas of community health and social justice for over 25 years. Cathy is dedicated to helping numerous organizations across the globe to make the world a better place. She has been instrumental in supporting several initiatives and programs at SLC.

What does this award mean to you personally?

It is an honour to be chosen to receive this prestigious award. I feel humbled to be recognized for my work and I share this with so many others, groups of dedicated and highly motivated people working together to make a difference in our community and in our world. I am grateful to be in the company of Canadians, Tanzanians, and Congolese people working together to make small differences in the lives of vulnerable people. They share this honour with me.

As a St. Lawrence College graduate, I am deeply grateful to Pam Bovey-Armstrong for nominating me. She is a powerhouse as an educator, an entrepreneur, and a community leader. She introduced me to the many staff and students at SLC with whom I have been privileged to work, and who have so warmly welcomed me into their lives and their learning.

How have SLC students or the college in general intersected with your work or community?

Working within both community health and international development over the past 27 years has provided me with opportunities to partner with both local and international groups and institutions. Some time ago, I was reminded of the amazing work of St. Lawrence College as I attended my first Young Women Innovators Conference as a Viking judge. From that moment I felt reconnected with the St. Lawrence College community. I went on to meet with the students of Enactus who took on the project of selling calendars to support the Tchukudu Women's Training Centre in DR Congo where women learn the skills of a seamstress to generate income to feed and educate their children. They raised over $1,200. I attended the SoFun Workshop at the Innovation Hub learning many new ideas on how to structure, build, and grow an international social enterprise.

In 2018, I worked with Polina Buchan, Kathleen Wright, and Pam Bovey-Armstrong and their many bright and engaging business students on an innovative and novel Shopify project. This included the full setup of our ongoing website www.couragecongo.com and a December Holiday Campaign with online sales of shopping totes, made by the Congolese women, totaling over $4,000. This project included the brilliant creativity of marketing communications student enterprise Spark with logos, graphic design, and advertisement ideas including a magazine advertisement to accompany an in-depth article in Profile Kingston. Students Jadon and Elle continued to support the website long after our joint project had ended.

What path have you followed that sees you here today? What were some ingredients of your success?

When I graduated from SLC, Cornwall campus in 1981 in Business Administration – Finance, I never imagined that my life path would lead me to where I am today. From banking, to owning a small business, to Kingston Community Midwives, then back to school in women's studies, sociology, and public administration, I was following my passion to learn and try to understand. In 2002 I found work in community development working on issues of homelessness, drug use, and food insecurity, and I felt like I had found my place, and my people.

It was a short hop, skip and jump from community development to international development where since 1984, I had wanted to travel to Africa, after seeing the images of the famine in Ethiopia. I thought maybe I could help in some way and I longed to go. Twenty-four years later, in 2008 I joined a medical caravan with Canada Africa Community Health Alliance travelling to Tanzania. This adventure set me on a new trajectory into international projects and programs. In 2014, I joined Heather Haynes to visit the Democratic Republic of Congo where I now work with incredibly resilient women, having been traumatized by violence, who are now building new income generating skills and businesses.

Who has been your biggest inspiration, and why?

My biggest inspirations are the people I walk beside in my work. People caring deeply for their fellow human beings, like Kizungu, the Congolese man who took orphans under his wing and found support for women who had suffered untold violence. Clarisse, from our first graduating sewing class who is now our training centre coordinator. Alex, who started Lake Victoria Children on Ukerewe Island to help vulnerable children and their families. Irene who left the first job she ever had to set out and earn a Master's Degree and find meaningful work with World Vision, and so many more.

I am inspired by the Tanzanian and Canadian doctors, nurses, clinical officers, dentists, pharmacists, and logisticians I have worked with who serve thousands of people each year with the Canada Africa Community Health Alliance. Their compassion, generosity and humility has opened doors for people in need. They are people who, with their skills and kindness, have saved many lives. I am in awe of friends who have initiated electronic medical records in isolated communities, provided access to clean water and wells, built schools, supported orphaned children, and supply needed medical equipment. My work is inspired by Canadian women who have generously offered their time and devotion to support Congolese women training and working to feed and educate their children.

These are the people who are my daily inspiration. They have made my world so much bigger and they have made the worlds of everyone around them a better place to be.

What words of inspiration/wisdom can you share with SLC graduates?

Life is precious and precarious. To our graduates: today is the first day of the rest of your life and you get to decide how you want to live it. No matter what path you take in work and life remember that once you know something, you can no longer retreat into the abyss of unconsciousness. Awareness must provoke action. When you see something that doesn't make sense, when you become aware of some injustice, inequity, wrong situation, you can take action. You can be the person to ask hard questions and open yourself up to hearing the answers. Be curious. Be yourself. Be your best self.

My hope and wish for each of you is that every day you bring your light and learning to all situations, and that you bring your best to yourself, your family, your community, and to the world.
